

Gary, Marty, Kevin,

I would to offer my thanks for the work completed at Westfield's, both personally and on behalf of Daktronics. It doesn't need saying that this was a real challenge of a project with a particularly unpleasant client, but thanks to your efforts and professionalism the project was completed on-time and to a very high standard. In particular, Four Dials and Stratford Place show the quality of your installation and is a clear reason why Daktronics works with you and wants to continue with you on future projects. Unfortunately the Daktronics modules for the outdoor displays let-down what would be a fantastic example of LED video display, however this does not detract from the quality of the installation.

Without your help and assistance, beyond the scope of works, this project would not have been completed and I would have probably long since jumped in front of one of those trains! Also, the cover for blowUP Media whilst I was busy arguing with Westfield's was again much appreciated.

I am trying to organise a project completion meal/drinks and would like to know a convenient time/place. If you are planning on visiting the UK anytime soon please let me know and I will get something pencilled-in.

Once again, many thanks,
Neil
